

Envisioning meeting 24.09.13 Notes

Our personal understanding of the (bold) vision

- Transformation
 - From dead space to community space
 - Good use of ugly space
 - Good enough to travel to
 - Of the whole of the Centre as a community hub and space for creative endeavour
 - An additional venue for the Festival
- Creativity
 - Experimental, ambitious, enabling, creative, inspirational
 - Open to new ideas
 - Reaching potential
 - Vibrant, energetic
- People and inclusion, connected community
 - Nobody ever has to be lonely
 - For the whole community
 - Building connections
 - A way to increase sustained volunteering
 - Strengthening the wider community by building shared spaces
 - Enabling, caring
- Café
 - For casual encounters
 - Eating together
 - Low cost
 - That worked better for the community than Café Orange

Held in the Hill Station with representatives from Bold Vision, Telegraph Hill Centre, PCC, Hill Station and Telegraph Hill Festival

What hasn't happened?

- Inclusivity

- It could touch, involve move the disenfranchised including black youth
- Working across the social divide
- Lost outreach to low income residents
- Not welcoming or inclusive (Hill Station better now)
- Engaging diverse groups
- Why do some people not feel welcome

- Integrated Vision

- The core idea of an integrated, unified approach to Centre (including Hill Station), whole centre development, too separate from the Centre
- Overall vision not clear
- Lost being on the edge of the do-able, lost boldness
- Architecture of the space (Hill Station plus Centre) doesn't facilitate unitedness
- The terraces, the inspiring view

- Practical needs

- Buggy park outside
- Better acoustics
- More communication
- Skill share
- Consolidation of sweat equity

Food for thought

- Re-integration

- Recreate / create shared vision and find the common ground with Centre, Church, Hill Station, other community orgs eg Bold Vision to attend Centre meetings and v.v.
- Build collaboration

- Integrated Vision

- Each group to consider 4 paragraph summary of where they are at and what they imagine / would love to see in the future
- Build in different skills and different spirits

- Practical needs

- Re-energise communication
- Fundraising – employ someone?
